ABOUT ME

I am a third-year Computer Science student at the National Polytechnic Institute of Cambodia. I have experience in front-end development, including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Bootstrap. Additionally, I have knowledge of MySQL. Currently, I am learning more about my major to deepen my understanding of web development.

also have experience in creating and editing videos using Adobe Premiere Pro, Photoshop, and Audition to make them more attractive. Moreover, I am learning how to become a web developer. I believe I can develop my skills. I'm not the best yet, but I will keep trying to become the best in the field of technology in the future.
